SCORING & RESULTS

Assign 1, 2, 3 or 4 points from left to right. For positively worded statements, reverse the score (1 becomes 4; 2 becomes 3; 3 becomes 2; 4 becomes 1). Add the three item scores within each domain. Each domain ranges from 3 to 12. Higher scores indicate a greater self-reported opportunity for growth.

Peace: Questions 1, 2, 3 | Score: _____ / 12

Power: Questions 4, 5, 6 | Score: _____ / 12

Purpose: Questions 7, 8, 9 | Score: _____ / 12

Your highest-scoring domain is a suggested starting point, not a diagnosis or definitive finding. In a tie, choose the area most relevant to your goals.

Peace: Practice a daily five-minute pause. Identify one source of unnecessary pressure and one boundary that could help you respond more intentionally.

Power: Identify one decision you have been postponing. Write down the facts, the fear influencing you, and one reasonable next action.

Purpose: Write down your three most important values. Choose one small action this week that brings your schedule into closer alignment with them.
