FROM FEAR TO FREEDOM

Your 7-Day Guide to Reclaiming Peace, Building Confidence & Moving Forward with Purpose

A companion to the free “What’s Really Holding You Back?” self-assessment

PATRICE AMBROISE

The Peace and Power Strategist

Welcome

You can appear successful on the outside and still wrestle with fear, self-doubt, or the pressure to meet everyone's expectations. This guide is an invitation to notice those patterns without judgment and take small, meaningful steps toward change.

You do not have to complete every exercise perfectly. Spend 10 to 15 minutes a day reflecting, writing, and taking one action. Your growth does not depend on having all the answers today.

Start with your assessment results

My strongest growth opportunity is: _____

One pattern I noticed in my answers:

_____

_____

One change I hope to make this week:

_____

_____

Day 1 | Name the Fear

Awareness comes before change. Think of a recent moment when you hesitated, overexplained, avoided a conversation, or sought reassurance.

Reflection: What was I afraid might happen? What did that fear lead me to do?

_____

_____

_____

Action: Write one sentence beginning, "I notice fear shows up when…"

Day 2 | Separate Facts from Fear

Fear can make possibilities feel like certainties. Practice distinguishing what you know from what you imagine.

Reflection: What facts support my concern? What am I assuming?

_____

_____

_____

Action: Rewrite one fear-driven thought as a balanced, realistic statement.

Day 3 | Protect Your Peace

Peace is not the absence of pressure. It includes how you respond to pressure and the boundaries you choose.

Reflection: What drains my energy unnecessarily? Where could one healthy boundary help?

_____

_____

_____

Action: Create one small boundary, pause, or restorative habit today.

Day 4 | Practice a Courageous Decision

Confidence grows through action, not through waiting until uncertainty disappears.

Reflection: What decision have I delayed? What information do I need, and what is a reasonable next step?

_____

_____

_____

Action: Take one reversible, thoughtful step toward that decision.

Day 5 | Use Your Voice

People-pleasing and fear of judgment can keep your needs and perspectives unheard. You can speak respectfully and still speak clearly.

Reflection: What have I wanted to say but held back?

_____

_____

_____

Action: Practice saying, “Here is what I think,” or “That does not work for me.”

Day 6 | Reconnect with Purpose

Purpose becomes clearer when your everyday choices reflect your values, not only your responsibilities.

Reflection: What matters most to me in this season? Which commitments align with those values?

_____

_____

_____

Action: Schedule 20 minutes for one meaningful priority.

Day 7 | Choose Your Next Chapter

Look back at the week. Progress can be a clearer thought, a boundary honored, a conversation started, or a decision made.

Reflection: What have I learned about fear? Where have I shown courage?

_____

_____

_____

Action: Choose one habit to practice over the next 30 days.

My 30-day commitment

I will practice: _____

I will begin on: _____

I will know I am making progress when:

_____

_____

Your next step

If you would like support applying these insights to your leadership, personal growth, relationships, or faith journey, explore coaching with Patrice Ambroise. Coaching can provide a structured space for reflection, practical action, and accountability.

Visit www.patriceambroise.com to learn more.

This guide is for education and self-reflection. It is not a diagnostic tool or a substitute for mental health care.